

Planned Giving

Through a planned gift, a contribution arranged in the present and allocated at a future date, you can help to sustain DGF and further our mission while enjoying financial benefits for yourself. Options for giving include bequests, charitable remainder trusts, and retirement and life insurance assets.

To learn more about making a planned gift and including DGF in your estate, please contact Jamie Balsai, Development Manager, at 212.391-8384 or Jamie@dgf.org.

DGF is an exempt organization as described in Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code; EIN 13-6144932.

Royalties

For dramatists, you can designate a portion of your royalties to DGF at any time by filling out our Royalty Enrollment Form below.

These gifts supply a steady flow of funds that allows DGF to provide opportunities for today's playwrights and generations to come. Designate a portion of your royalties during your lifetime or bequeath a portion of your royalties or copyrights to DGF in your Will. Your royalty contribution can easily be altered by notifying us in writing. Advantages of gifts of royalties:

1. It is as simple as completing our royalty enrollment form and returning it to DGF
2. The amount you choose, is automatically deducted
3. Your royalty deductions are tax deductible
4. You can change our mind and alter your plans at any time
